SONG LYRICS

Now babe I'm so grateful to yah,
For letting me get so close to you.
And as we lay here together,
I know that it can't get no better.
But I'm the kind of man, who can't sit still.
And although I don't want to leave you, girl, I know I will.

So don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on, before too long.
No, don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on.

I'm the kind of man, who can't take hold.
So before too long, girl, I'll be out your door.

So don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on.

Now babe I can't explain it.
I guess this is just the way the good Lord planned it.
You see my road is long, and my path unclear.
So I want to stay with you, and be secure.
But I'm the kind of man, who can't sit down.
So before too long, girl, I'm gonna blow this town.

So don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on, before too long.
No, don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on.

You see years ago, I realized,
That as long as I've got wings, girl, I'm gonna have to fly.

So don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on, before too long.
No, don't wait for me, love.
Move on.

Yes, don't wait for me.
I don't know where I'll be.
And though I'll always love you,
I want you to do what you've got to do,
And don't wait for me, love.
You'd better move on.

Now babe, when our story's over,
I hope that the memories will bring us closer.
And when your friends ask what ever happened to me,
I want you to tell them so simply.
Say, "He was the kind of man, that I just couldn't tame.
But after me, he was never the same.
He couldn't wait for me, love.
He had to move on.
He couldn't wait for me, he had to move on."

(If you really care, don't string them along.)

So don't wait for me.
I want you to move on, before too long.
Please, don't wait for me, love.
Move on.
Please move on.
