

IN MY MIND

by Mark Taylor

Copyright © © 2004 by Mark Taylor
All Rights Reserved

SONG LYRICS

Well I'm dreaming of a world
In which children never cry
There are a lot of happy little faces, in my mind.

And I'm dreaming of a sky
In which the stars always shine
It's a beautiful starlit night, in my mind.

You may think that dreaming is just a waste of time
But close your eyes and feel it
And then you'll see it, right there, in your mind.
Oh Yes I know you will see it, too, in your mind.

Now I dreaming of a day
In which sickness has been denied
Oh there's a joyful noise, in my mind.

I know you think dreaming is just a waste of time
But close your eyes and feel it
And then you'll see it, right there, in your mind.
Oh I know you can see it, too, in your mind.

Young or old
Black or white
Don't let go of your dreams
Keep them alive, in your mind.
"Keep all your dreams alive," in your mind.

Now lets make it a better world
Where hope is always alive
Be a candle to the future and let the light flow, from your mind.

Together we can make it a better world
In which hope is always alive
Lets be candles to the future and let the light flow, from our minds.

I can see it all right now, in my mind.