

NOT THE ONE TO BLAME

by Mark Taylor

Copyright © © 2004 by Mark Taylor
All Rights Reserved

SONG LYRICS

[VERSE 1]

And when you cry,
I'm crying too.
And when you fall,
I'm falling too.

[CHORUS 1]

And baby don't be afraid of the dark,
And your daddy wants you to know,
He's so sad, when we're apart.
So sad when we're apart.

[VERSE 2]

So when you smile,
I'm smiling too.
And when you pray,
I'm praying too.

[CHORUS 2]

And I know that life seems so unfair.
But your daddy wants you to know,
He's so sad,
When he's not there.
So sad when I'm not there.
And I know you don't understand the pain.
But please try to remember that you're not,
Not the one to blame.
Not the one to blame.

[BRIDGE]

And how can I make you understand,
That sometimes, in life,
Things ain't like you planned.
Not at all like you planned.
How can I make you understand?

[VERSE 3]

So when you reach,
I'm reaching too.
And when you call,
Your voice is coming through.

[CHORUS 3]

And I know you'll never understand the pain.
But just try to remember that you're not,

Not the one to blame.
You're not the one to blame.
I know you don't understand the pain.
But just try to remember that you're not,
Not the one to blame.
You're not the one to blame.
Not the one to blame.

The End