SONG LYRICS

When you touch me
I feel your heat
And I think we both know where I want to be.

When you touch me
And you call my name
My soul becomes yours to claim.

When you touch me
And you lay your heart on mine
I know my search is over one more time.

When you touch me
Now I'm going to have to change all my plans
'Cause I just want to love you everyway I can
When you touch me.

When I first saw you
I swear I'd seen your kind before.
Just another pretty girl and not much more.
Just another pretty girl and not much more.
Not much more.
And then you touched me.

Now when you touch me
Oh, baby, I begin to believe
It's not the destination but the journey.

When you touch me
And you lay your heart on mine
I know my search is over one more time.
Oh yes, I know my search is over one more time
When you touch me.
